The Comparative Youth Penalty Project

Project Newsletter April 2016

The Comparative Youth Penalty Project (CYPP) is an ARC Discovery Project led by Professor Chris Cunneen, Professor Eileen Baldry, Emeritus Professor David Brown, Melanie Schwartz and Professor Barry Goldson (University of Liverpool).

The CYPP is an international comparative study of youth punishment in Australia (focusing on NSW, Victoria, Queensland and WA) and in England and Wales. The project aims to analyse developments in the punishment of children and young people over the last 30 years. This is the first in-depth analysis of Australian youth penalty and the first comparative study of youth punishment across these jurisdictions.

The Project seeks to answer the following questions:

- What are the defining features of contemporary juvenile justice penalty?
- How has youth penalty changed since the early 1980s across the jurisdictions that are the subject of this project?
- How have changing approaches to youth penalty impacted upon particular social groups, including racial minorities, Indigenous youth, young women, and young people with mental and cognitive disabilities?
- What, if any, jurisdictional differences are to be found in discourses on community safety, the nature of childhood and youth (including child welfare and protection), the appropriateness of rehabilitation and the character of punishment practices for youth?
- How has the development of a human rights framework impacted on penal law, policy and practice as applied to youth? What impact, if any, has a children's rights framework had on differentiating youth justice from adult penal systems?
This newsletter provides stakeholders with an update on the progress of the CYPP. It also lists some of the latest news and research in the field of youth penalty. For more information please visit our website or contact CYPP Research Associate, Sophie Russell.

Human Rights Commission Roundtable

Principle Investigator Chris Cunneen recently attended an Australian Human Rights Commission (AHRC) expert roundtable exploring the issues around the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture (OPCAT) in the context of youth justice detention centres. The CYPP will also be providing a written submission to the ARHC on this issue.

ABC Radio National Program on Disability and the Criminal Justice System

Chief Investigator Eileen Baldry recently spoke on ABC Radio National’s Ockham’s Razor about people with disability and the criminal justice system. Eileen argued that the incarceration of people with disabilities is both predictable and preventable and outlined measures to fix the problem. The full program is available here.

New Research Staff

The CYPP is pleased to welcome Research Assistant Dr Anna Nettheim to the project team.

Data Analysis

Preliminary quantitative data analysis has been carried out on New South Wales Police diversion and court proceeding data. This analysis will form part of a discussion around the use of diversionary proceedings against young people.
